DETAILED ACTION

CLAIMS PRESENTED

Claims 1-43 are presented.

CLAIM REJECTIONS

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-43 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are that some physical entity (e.g., computer) actuates the claimed invention. The claims do not clearly recite whether a user actuates the claimed invention merely by mental steps or uses physical hardware. Evidence that claim 1-43 omits cooperative relationships which applicant(s) regard as essential to the invention can be found in the specification at pages 1-9 (especially page 1 which notes electronic methods of data handling). Because of this reason, claims 1-43 fail to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the applicants regard as their invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claims do not clearly recite whether a user actuates the claimed invention merely by mental steps or uses physical hardware.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-43 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, and 35 U.S.C. 101 set forth in this Office action. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: albeit unclear because of the reasons stated in the rejections, the particular classification level handling with such particular details of relevant algorithms are not taught or suggested by the prior art..

Conclusion

The art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The art disclosed general background.
